

PRESS RELEASE

Sydney, 01 October 2004.

Exclusive Logistics Solutions is delighted to announce the appointment of Mr Chris Bottero as MD of Exclusive Logistics Solutions in Australia with immediate effect.

Chris has been in the logistics industry for some 16 years and has an impressive background in ocean freight, air freight and customs clearance. His experience was gained in some of the largest global companies in the industry.

"Over the years, I saw the multi-nationals getting larger and their ability to provide true personal service weakening. Not all clients want off-the-shelf services," says Bottero. "Exclusive Logistics Solutions is a company that expresses its presence in terms of "Ability", its customer base as "Partners" and its staff as "The Team". I see the opportunity to create unique packets of tailor-made solutions to mainly medium and small companies who need a company to partner them in approaching the dynamic challenges of global logistics." "I am so looking forward to delivering what I believe in," he enthused.

Chris will be based in Sydney, but will assume overall responsibility for Perth, Melbourne, Brisbane and Adelaide as well.
